The division took over the 34th Inf Div zone astride Highway 65 on 5 Apr 45. On 17 Apr 45 the division attacked up Highway 65 and took its objectives of M.Adone, M.Posigliano, Pianoro, and M.Arnigo the next day. It started pursuit operations toward Bologna against slight resistance 20 Apr 45, taking M.Sabbiano the next day, and crossing the 362nd Inf at Sermide on the Po River 24 Apr 45. The division then swung to the northeast and reached Cerea 25 Apr 45 and crossed the Adige River at Legnano the next day. It crossed the Brenta River 29 Apr 45 and on 30 Apr 45 took Treviso north of Venice. It was in that area when all German forces in Italy surrendered on 2 May 45.

92nd Infantry Division (Colored) Combat Narrative

The 370th Inf arrived in Naples Italy 1 Aug 44 and went into line with the 1st Armd Div on 23 Aug 44, participating in the advance against negligible German resistance across the Arno River and the occupation of Lucca. Task Force 92, comprised of the 370th Inf and CCB of the 1st Armd Div, continued the advance on 25 Sep 44 along the Serchio Valley north of Pescia. On 29 Sep 44 the task force gained control of Highway 12 along Lima Creek and reached La Lima the next day. Task Force 92 assumed responsibility for the coast sector below M.Cauala on the approach to Massa 5 Oct 44 as the remainder of the division arrived throughout October, the task force being dissolved 6 Nov 44.

The division began a protracted struggle for M.Cauala on 6 Oct 44, supporting tanks and tank destroyers being unable initially to cross swollen streams to reinforce troops driving on the mountain the next day. After reaching the slopes of M.Cauala the division was forced back by German fire 8 Oct 44, pushed to the top without opposition on 9 Oct 44 but later in the same day withdrew. After four attempts were made to gain and hold the mountain, another major push was made 12 Oct 44 which reached the crest, but again division forces were forced to retire. Efforts to take the mountain were then suspended for a few days as the division concentrated on patrol activities. M.Cauala fell undefended to a patrol on 17 Oct 44, but after further unsuccessful attempts to push northeast from the mountain, the division went on the defensive in the coast sector 23 Oct 44. The 371st Inf arrived in Livorno 18 Oct 44 and entered the line 31 Oct 44, while the 365th Inf arrived in Italy 29 Oct-8 Nov 44 and entered the front 8-9 Nov 44. The fourth regiment, the separate 366th Inf, was attached to the division on 26 Nov 44. Additionally, on 23 Dec 44 the division in the Lucca area was reinforced with two brigades of the Indian 8th Div and the 337th and 339th Inf of the 85th Inf Div.

The German counterattack against the division along the Serchio drove in its outposts on 26 Dec 44, precipitating a general withdrawal. The following day part of the 366th Inf abandoned its positions and the division made further withdrawals. Elements of the Indian 8th Division then passed through the retreating division to make patrol contact with German forces which promptly pulled back. The Indian 8th Division was placed in reserve on 10 Jan 45 and the division again given responsibility for the Serchio Valley. The 365th and 366th Inf made a limited attack to improve positions in the Serchio Valley and recovered lightly guarded Galliciano, Castelvecchio, and Albiano with ease on 4 Feb 45. The division then began indecisive fighting for the heights on either side of the Serchio, with the 366th Inf at M.Faeto and the 365th Inf at Lama di Sotto Ridge. As the division gave ground east of the river, it also crossed a heavily mined area to capture the Cinquale Canal on 8 Feb 45. However, on 11 Feb 45 it broke off all further attacks and withdrew its bridgehead across the Cinquale Canal.

The division was thoroughly reorganized commencing 1 Mar 45, the transition being completed 3 Apr 45. The 366th Inf was withdrawn and disposed into two engineer general service regiments; the 473rd Inf, attached 24 Feb 45, replaced the 370th Inf which in turn was reconstituted in a rear area from selected officers and men of the division's original three regiments; the 442nd (Nisei) attached; and the 365th and 371st Inf withdrawn, the former south of Viareggio as a replacement training center. On 5 Apr 45 the new division attacked along the Ligurian coast with the 370th and 442nd Inf leading, the former falling back immediately under counterattack but the latter taking M.Fragolita. As the 370th Inf remained pinned, the 442nd Inf went on to take M.Cerrata and then stormed and seized M.Belvedere 7 Apr 45. On 8 Apr 45 the 473rd Inf replaced the 370th Inf in line and continued the attack up Highway 1 as the latter withdrew to the rear. On 10 Apr 45 the division entered an evacuated Massa, but then was unable to make much headway against strong opposition along the coast. The division finally captured Aulla on 25 Apr 45 and reached Genoa against disorganized resistance on 27 Apr 45. It took Alessandria on 28 Apr 45, and the 473rd Inf linked up with French troops on the Franco-Italian border 30 Apr 45. It was in the vicinity of Alessandria and Pavin when German forces in Italy surrendered on 2 May 45.

93rd Infantry Division (Colored) Combat Narrative

The division moved to Guadalcanal by echelon 11 Jan-5 Mar 44, where its elements were parceled out to various islands throughout the Pacific for the duration of the war.

The 25th Inf Regt engaged in labor details at docks and warehouses on Guadalcanal 6-23 Mar 44 and arrived at Empress Augusta Bay Bougainville 28 Mar 44. There it was attached to Americal Div. It conducted limited offensive operations, crossing the Laruma River 2 Apr 44 and patrolling in the Torokina Valley 7-12 Apr 44, and against Japanese along the Kuma and East-West Trails during May. Between 26 May and 21 Jun 44 the regiment displaced to the Green Islands where it engaged in construction of fortifications, defense of installations, and trained. It moved from the Green Islands to Finschhafen New Guinea 12 Oct-10 Nov 44 where it defended the area and supplied labor details for port duty until 30 Mar 45. The regiment departed New Guinea 31 Mar 45 and arrived on Morotai Island by 12 Apr 45 where supplied stevedore crews at the port, trained, and conducted offensive operations in the Bosoboso area of eastern Morotai. These tasks were continued until the end of the war.

The 368th Inf Regt arrived at Bakina Russell Islands on 7 Feb 44 and furnished fatigue details at docks, warehouses, and supply dumps. It moved to New Georgia Island 14 Jun-3 Jul 44 and there engaged in patrols, guarded radar and radio equipment, and engaged in dock and port duties. The regiment arrived in Hollandia New Guinea 14-30 Oct 44 to furnish details for supply operations with the secondary mission of security in the area. Between 2 and 29 Apr 45 it moved to Morotai Island where it defended military installations and cleared the area between the Pilowo and Bobo Rivers. The regiment departed Morotai Island 29 Jun 45 and arrived at Zamboanga Philippines 1 Jul 45 to assume responsibility for the base. It conducted patrols and training there while a battalion was detached to take over responsibility for security of Palawan Island from the 41st Inf Div, and another battalion was sent to mop up Jolo Island. The regiment engaged in these activities until the end of the war.

The 369th Inf Regt arrived at New Georgia Island from Guadalcanal 29 Feb-12 Mar 44. There it defended the island until relieved by the 368th Inf Regt and departed 26 Jun 44. It arrived at Emirau in the St Matthias Island Group on 28 Jun 44, and was disposed tactically throughout the islands where improved fortifications and maintained defenses. The 3rd Battalion was detached to Los Negros Island Admiralty Islands and landed 29 Sep 44. The 2nd Battalion was detached to Biak Island where it arrived 1 Oct 44, followed by the rest of the regiment on 31 Oct 44. There the regiment, less 3rd Bn, supplied labor details and made some tactical patrols. On 1 Apr 45 it left Biak Island and arrived on Morotai Island 4 Apr 45. The next day elements were sent to Sansapor New Guinea and Middelburg Island, and the 3rd Battalion rejoined the regiment on Morotai about 10 Apr 45. The regiment then engaged in mopping up and establishing outposts on western Morotai until the end of the war.

The division headquarters and other assigned components engaged in cargo loading on Guadalcanal 6 Mar-4 Jun 44 and then moved to Stirling Island in the Treasury Group 5-7 Jun 44. There it assumed defensive missions and engaged in labor details until moved to Hollandia New Guinea 30 Oct 44. The division was responsible for loading and unloading of supplies and maintained outposts until departed 1 Apr 45. On 5 Apr 45 it arrived on Morotai Island and took over port operations and control of its elements on the island until the end of the war.

★ Appendix IV. Proposed (Ghost) and Deception (Phantom) Divisions

Ghost divisions were those planned for activation but dropped by the War Department during 1943 because of mounting personnel requirements for service units, overhead, and the Army Air Force B-29 bomber program:

15th Airborne Division	191, 192, 545	Inf Regts	459 Prcht, 678 Glider, 679 Glider FA Bns
61st Infantry Division	247, 248, 249	Inf Regts	716, 855, 856, 857 FA Bns
62nd Infantry Division	250, 251, 252	Inf Regts	717, 858, 859, 860 FA Bns
67th Infantry Division	265, 266, 267	Inf Regts	722, 873, 874, 875 FA Bns
68th Infantry Division	268, 269, 270	Inf Regts	723, 876, 877, 878 FA Bns
72nd Infantry Division	280, 281, 282	Inf Regts	727, 888, 889, 890 FA Bns
73rd Infantry Division	283, 284, 285	Inf Regts	728, 891, 892, 893 FA Bns
74th Infantry Division	286, 287, 288	Inf Regts	729, 894, 895, 896 FA Bns
105th Infantry Division	419, 420, 421	Inf Regts	585, 586, 587, 588 FA Bns
107th Infantry Division	308, 312, 316	Inf Regts	Unknown FA composition

Phantom divisions were those created to deceive German forces during Operation Fortitude in June-August 1944, which was a deliberate attempt to convince their high command that additional Allied divisions would land at Pas de Calais. Patches were approved, but subdivisinal components remained a complete fiction:

6th Airborne Division	22nd Infantry Division	108th Infantry Division
9th Airborne Division	46th Infantry Division	119th Infantry Division
11th Infantry Division	48th Infantry Division	130th Infantry Division
14th Infantry Division	50th Infantry Division	135th Airborne Division
17th Infantry Division	55th Infantry Division	141st Infantry Division
18th Airborne Division	59th Infantry Division	157th Infantry Division
21st Airborne Division
